Undergraduate Programme's General Competences

Faculty / 10 April 2017

At the end of the teaching learning process, graduates are expected to demonstrate attitudes and behaviors or able to:

- 1. Devoted to God Almighty.
- 2. Has a moral, ethical, and good personality to accomplish tasks.
- 3. Serve as a citizen with pride and love of the country who supports world peace.
- 4. Capable to work in collaboration; have social sensitivity and concern to the community and environment.
- 5. Respect for cultural diversity, views, beliefs, and religion, as well as opinions/original discoveries of others.
- 6. Uphold the rule of law and have the spirit to put the interests of the nation and the society.